

Unite to save Tamil Nadu from foes: CM Stalin

Stalin's call for unity highlights his campaign narrative of safeguarding regional pride while pushing for development.

CHENNAI: Chief Minister MK Stalin on Thursday took to the social media platform X to release a video message to the people of the state to unite and win together, in the backdrop of the Tiruparkundram deepaathu row setback.

In his message, he emphasised protecting Tamil Nadu's land, language and culture, and called on citizens to come together to irrespective of challenges posed by political adversaries.

In the post, Stalin said, "Tamilans, on the path of development, let's win together. No matter how many forces come against us, we will protect our soil, language and dignity of Tamil Nadu and win as one," reinforcing his appeal for collective effort toward the State's progress and identity. The message comes at a time of heightened political activity in Tamil Nadu, with parties gearing up for the elections. Stalin's call for unity highlights his campaign narrative of safeguarding regional pride while pushing for development.

Mumps cases silently go north in southern states

CHENNAI: A childhood viral infection, long regarded as a routine, is quietly resurfacing in Tamil Nadu, reappearing in schools and communities with little public attention. A paper review study published in the Indian Journal of Public Health has reported renewed circulation of the mumps virus across South India, with Tamil Nadu among the affected states, raising concerns over immunisation gaps, delayed diagnosis and the tendency to dismiss the disease as mild. The study, conducted between January and March 2024, analysed samples from patients presenting with basic mumps symptoms in Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Kerala and Telangana. Of the 200 clinically suspected cases tested using molecular methods, 26 (13 per cent) were laboratory-confirmed. Children accounted for nearly 89 per cent of the infections, underlining the virus's renewed foothold among the paediatric population.

For Tamil Nadu, the findings carry added significance as the study period coincided with reported clusters in districts such as Sivaganga, pointing at active transmission within the state.

TVK plans 60:40 seat split between loyalists, newcomers

CHENNAI: Even as grassroots enthusiasm swells with the filing of the petition, Vaiko (TVK) for a full-fledged electoral front, party president actor Vijay is understood to be shaping a markedly calibrated strategy for the forthcoming Assembly elections, one that blends organisational loyalty with political expansion. At the heart of the plan is a 60:40 ticket-allocation formula that seeks to balance the aspirations of party workers with the electoral heft of influential non-party figures and leaders who have crossed over from rival formations.

Sources indicate that the actor-politician, who has in recent months stepped up the induction of prominent faces into the party, is keen to honour commitments made at the time of their entry.

The proposed framework, they say, is aimed at rapidly broadening TVK's social and political footprint without alienating its organisational base. 'Our party now has over 100 districts and 1000 of the 1000 constituencies each. Office-bearers have been appointed in a majority of these units, and grassroots work is progressing steadily to strengthen the party's base and influence,' a statement functionary told DT. Next. While there is palpable eagerness among workers to contest the Assembly polls, the leadership has opted for a larger strategic view.

Under the plan, 60 per cent of the tickets would be reserved for long-time party functionaries, with priority accorded to district secretaries, women and minorities, reflecting an attempt to reward organisational and social contributions. The remaining 40 per cent would be set aside for notable figures from outside the party fold, including leaders who have switched sides and other individuals perceived to have local influence and electoral appeal.

This is how the seat allocation is likely to be structured, 'the functionary added, stressing that the formula is intended to maximise winnability while ensuring internal balance. Sources further said that Vijay, along with Aadhar Arjuna, the party's general secretary in charge of election campaign management, are expected to enter the fray from Chennai, and two of the city's 16 Assembly constituencies are likely to be finalised closer to the polls. Party general secretary N Anand, meanwhile, is tipped to contest from the Union Territory of Puducherry. Within Chennai and select pockets elsewhere in the State, several district-level leaders are said to have received oral assurances from the leadership in recognition of their groundwork.

Philanthropy in the past: Tondaiman-era land donation document found in Pudukkottai

CHENNAI: A historical inscription documenting a land donation by the Tondaiman ruler has been discovered at Senayakudi village in Pudukkottai's Kalathur taluk during a recent field study by the Pudukkottai Archaeological Research Forum.

According to a Manikandan, founder of the forum, the inscription was discovered in a private field at Periya Vayalakkadu, on the border of Senayakudi village. The stone slab bears a bas-relief of Vamana, an avatar of Lord Vishnu, on one side - a traditional symbol indicating land grants made for charitable purposes. The reverse side carries an inscription dedicating the land to 'the Hiranyakala Raya Puram Andal Chithiram', a four-story house. Manikandan noted that the area now known as Chinnaiyana Chithiram was originally called Thirumalai Raya Puram.

During the reign of Raghunatha Raya Tondaiman, such chithramas provided free food and shelter to travellers and pilgrims. While Brahmins were served cooked meals, others were given raw materials and provisions for their use. The newly discovered inscription confirms that the Valayankulam pond and surrounding agricultural lands in Senayakudi were donated to meet the expenses and food requirements of the Thirumalai Raya Puram Chathiram.

Manikandan said local farmers continue to cultivate and protect these lands in keeping with tradition. He added that the Tondaiman rulers established an extensive network of chithramas over the past 300 years, including Ayappi Chathiram (1779), Onangudi Chathiram (1783) and Vadavalam West Chathiram. Records show these structures served as ashrams (Kachi Koch) and hermitages, with spiritual feasts held on every Dwadasi. He further said that these 300-year-old structures were vital hubs for weary travellers, providing water, food, and facilitating rest for both humans and cattle.

The line between terrorism &amp; protest

The Supreme Court's verdict on bail pleas by the accused in the 2020 Delhi riots transcript case, booked and remanded under the stringent Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), is likely to have implications that could go beyond the present case. The bench granted bail to five persons, but declined to two others, JNU scholars and activists Umar Khalid and Sharjeel Imam, in an order that is more in sync with the prosecution's arguments relating to security, broadening the ambit of what constitutes a terrorist.

Under Section 13(2) of Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002, the parties of the security interest in favour of the bank are entitled to file a suit to discharge the debt due to the bank, your accounts have been classified as Non-Performing Assets as per the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India. As the Demand Notices that were sent by Regd. Post shall open to discharge the debt due to the bank were returned by the Post Office, this notice is issued.
